Dr. Clegg F. Austin examines Jimmy Hargrove at the clinic for first grade children held at North Calloway Elementary School on October 2. Similar clinics will be at East Elementary at 9:00 a.m. and Southwest Elementary at 12:30 p.m. on Thursday, October 9. The purpose of the clinic is to complete physical examinations for the children who had not received one prior to enrollment in school. This is a service usually rendered at the Calloway County Health Department; but due to the new facilities at the Calloway Schools and the renovation program at the Health Department, the school setting was chosen. "The health services' facilities in the new schools are a great asset to the students of the Calloway County Schools," said Dr. Austin.

Gable Urges 'New Attitude'

Carroll Says Watergate And Campaign Funds Major Issues

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky Gov. Julian Carroll said the prime issue in the Kentucky gubernatorial race will be Republican involvement in Watergate and the "missing $100,000" allegedly brought into the state in 1971.

Carroll, speaking before Northern Kentucky Democrats Monday night, also attacked Republican plans to bring President Gerald Ford to Louisville Oct. 16.

Carroll reiterated that his GOP opponent, Robert Gable, was finance chairman for a Republican gubernatorial bid when the excess Nixon campaign funds allegedly were brought into the state.

Carroll said he wondered if President Ford would appear in Louisville at all, scene of turmoil over the integration of schools.

Carroll challenged Gable to ask Mr. Ford how he can be against busing and not support a busing law.

"I don't believe Bob Gable has the backbone to do that," Carroll said.

Kentucky's two Democratic senators also attacked Republicans at the dinner.

U.S. Sen. Walter Huddleston predicted that Congress will override Mr. Ford's veto of the school lunch bill.

U.S. Sen. Wendell Ford attacked President Ford's veto of the tobacco price support bill.

"Where does the President really stand?" Ford demanded.

Carroll, at a chamber of commerce luncheon, said all of Interstate 471 will be under way by next year and the section between Northern Kentucky State College and Newport will be under contract next spring.

The governor also said he will support financing during the next General Assembly for Northern Kentucky State College to become a university.

He said university status for the five-year-old college would put it on an equal basis with other state institutions elevated to universities.

Carroll said he would include in his budget request the necessary financing for the change.

While Carroll was in Northern Kentucky, Gable traveled northeast of Lexington, attending the Maysville Court Day in Mason County and making stops in Fleming, Nicholas and Bourbon counties.

It was mostly a hand-shaking tour, but Gable made brief remarks at Maysville, telling the Court Day crowd it is time for a "new direction" and a "new attitude."

And at Paris, Gable pledged that if he is elected governor he will build an improved road between Paris and Lexington.

At each stop, Gable reiterated his opposition to busing for school desegregation, and criticized Carroll for not trying to prevent the court-ordered

President Promises To Cut Spending

Congress Goes To Work On Ford Proposal To Cut Taxes $28 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress goes to work today on tax cut proposals, including a $28 billion tax slash put forth by President Ford, who called it "the biggest single tax cut in our history."

The $28 billion total for 1976, which includes tax cuts totaling $22.9 billion already in effect that Ford proposes to extend, does not contain any provision for rebates. But individual taxpayers would get about $2.6 billion more in tax reductions in 1976 than in 1975.

Tables provided by the White House show that, if Ford's individual tax reductions are enacted, a family of four with income of $15,000 would be able to reduce its taxes by $287 more in 1976 than it can this year.

If the President's proposal is approved, the effect would show in tax withholding from paychecks beginning Jan. 1, 1976, and on tax returns due April 15, 1977.

As the House Ways and Means Committee took up various tax-cut proposals, there were some Democratic doubts that the legislative branch can meet Ford's request for a $28-billion reduction in government spending to match his proposed tax cut.

But the President told Republican congressional leaders at a White House meeting he will veto 100 bills if he has to to cut government spending in exchange for the tax cut.

The Republican leaders listed future anticipated increases in medicare, medicaid, food stamps and categorical grants in aid as possible areas for reduction in spending growth.

Ford used the word "fight" repeatedly and declared that he believes his tax cut-spending cut plan will succeed because the public wants a tax cut.

Rep. Robert H. Michel, R-Ill., told reporters after the White House meeting: "The President said if he has to veto 100 bills to hold down spending he'll do it."

"We obviously have a problem with a Democratic Congress," Michel added. "We have to do the best we can. With one-third plus one, we're making a point. Then let the people decide."

The "one-third plus one" refers to the number of votes Republicans must muster to sustain Ford's vetoes.

The Ways and Means Committee, where all tax legislation originates, also considered proposals for individual cuts in the $8 billion to $12 billion range for individuals, compared to the $20.7-billion Ford proposed in his nationally broadcast speech Monday night. Ford also proposed $7 billion in business tax reductions.

Ways and Means Chairman Al Ullman, D-Ore., said today the committee is likely to approve $12 billion in tax cuts for individuals and from $2 billion to $3 billion for corporations as a stimulus to the economy. He said he expects Congress to enact the package by December.

Interviewed on the CBS-TV "Morning News," Ullman said Ford's plan of linking a tax cut and a spending reduction is "a mirage" because "we need to get a tax reduction into effect in January" but the new budget won't be submitted to Congress until the end of January.

Ullman said that while Congress shares the President's desire to cut federal spending, it wants to reduce defense, space and foreign aid proposals, while "the President would rather cut in the people programs" such as health and education.

As the committee met, Ullman complained to Treasury Secretary William E.

Simon that the panel was not alerted beforehand to Ford's "totally new and different concept." Ullman said the concept "invokes jurisdiction beyond this committee; it goes to budget jurisdiction."

Simon apologized for his "inability to forewarn" the panel, saying the proposal was "extremely tightly kept in the administration," but he stressed that the President considered cuts in taxes and cuts in spending to be one package.

In an interview on CBS, Simon called the President's proposal an effort to restore the confidence of the American people in their government's ability to run the economy. He denied that the proposal contained any political considerations.

The Tax Proposal At-A-Glance

Here are major features of the proposed $28 billion in permanent tax reductions proposed by President Ford Monday:

For individuals:

—Raise the personal exemption taxpayers can claim for themselves and their dependents from $750 to $1,000. Estimated savings to taxpayers would be $10.1 billion.

—Replace the minimum standard deduction and the maximum standard deduction with a single standard deduction of $1,800 for a single taxpayer and $2,500 for married couples. Estimated savings, $4 billion.

—Reduce tax rates for taxable incomes up to $10,000 for married taxpayers. Estimated savings, $6.6 billion.

—Over-all reductions for individuals would be $4 billion more than relief from the 1975 rebates and reductions.

For business:

—Reduce the maximum corporate tax rate from 48 to 46 per cent. Estimated savings, $2.2 billion.

—Extend 1975 corporate rate and surtax exemption changes benefiting small business. Estimated savings, $1.7 billion.

—Permanently increase the investment tax credit from 7 to 10 per cent for most businesses and 4 to 10 per cent for utilities. Estimated savings, $2.5 billion.

—A six-point program of tax relief for electric utilities. Estimated savings, $600 million.

Several Sentenced By Lassiter

Several sentences were handed out in Calloway Circuit Court today by Circuit Judge James M. Lassiter.

Merritt Lawson, charged with knowingly receiving stolen property of value less than $100, was given a $500 fine on each of three counts after a circuit court jury found him guilty on the three counts.

Bruce Pace entered a guilty plea for two counts of possession of controlled substance and received a $500 fine and a 90-day jail term.

Keith Riddle entered a guilty plea on two counts of possession of controlled substance, and received a four-month jail term and $500 fine.

Jerry Manness received one year after pleading guilty to selling mortgaged property, and restitution was also ordered.

Mike Lyle received one year for trafficking in controlled substance.

A bond forfeiture was ordered for Charles Kokotow, charged with first degree assault, after he failed to appear this morning. A bench warrant was issued for his arrest.

Little Mr. Murray Pageant Scheduled

The Sigma Delta Chapter of Tau Phi Lambda Sorority on Murray State University's campus will sponsor a Little Mr. Murray Pageant at 7 p.m. on Nov. 8 in University School Auditorium. A rehearsal will be held on Friday night, Nov. 7. Boys between the ages of 4 and 6 who are residents of Calloway County may enter.

An entry fee of $15 is required from the sponsor, and must accompany the returned entry blank. Sponsors may be individuals, businesses, or any organization wishing to participate. The entry blanks may be picked up at Lad &

Lassie, The Stepladder, and ABC Playschool. All entry blanks should be sent to Debbie Carnal, Box 2156 University Station, Murray, Ky. no later than Oct. 25.

Contestants will be judged on poise and appearance, with each contestant modeling several of his own outfits. Prizes will be given to the top three winners.

Admission for the pageant will be $2 for adults and $1 for children. Tickets may be picked up from any sorority member.

Persons having any questions may call Susan Carter at 767-4691 or Debbie Carnal at 767-4767.

School Board Meets At Southwest School

The Calloway County Board of Education held the first of a series of meetings away from the board office at the Southwest Elementary School last night. Each of the schools will be visited in coming months by the board.

Payment of $14,631 was approved for claim number three to Crouch Construction Co. for the central office construction. Supt. William B. Miller said that construction is going generally on schedule at the building.

The utility tax audit was reviewed and accepted and average daily attendance contracts between districts were authorized.

The purchase of another bus to be used as a spare was authorized by the board, and a bill was approved for checking on waterproofing on the outside of the schools.

Bids will be requested for the board's general property insurance, and the board approved the same type of basketball programs for the high school and elementary schools as was used last year.

Eight Hour Seige Ends With Safe Release Of 10 Hostages

NEW YORK (AP) — An eight-hour seige of a Greenwich Village bank ended with the safe release of 10 hostages and the capture of a belligerent, rambling young gunman who said he was "sympathetic" to the Symbionese Liberation Army and a "fan" of Patricia Hearst.

Ray "Cat" Olsen of Merrick, N.Y., had fired one wild shot inside the bank where he held customers and employees hostage and alternately demanded $10 million in gold, a getaway airplane and the release of Miss Hearst and three radical companions from California prisons.

"Everyone's out, everyone's all right," Deputy Police Commissioner Frank McLoughlin said Monday night moments after Olsen was distracted by a police negotiator and grabbed from the rear by other policemen who had sneaked into the bank.

The last three of the 10 hostages — six employees and four customers — were freed after Olsen's capture. Others were released at intervals during the tense seige of the Bankers Trust Co. branch that had given lower Sixth Avenue the look of an armed camp.

Armed with a pistol and a shotgun, Olsen at first claimed affiliation with the SLA, the small terrorist band which kidnaped and claimed to have converted Miss Hearst. Later, he said the idea just "popped in my head."

"I wouldn't mind being affiliated with them, you know," Olsen told Scott Muni of radio station WNEW-FM in a telephone interview. "I'm sympathetic to their cause."

In reference to Miss Hearst, he said, "I don't know her personally. I'm just a fan."

He also told Muni, "I was completely broke, man. I walked in here, with two cents in my pocket. When I get broke I do crazy things."

Assistant bank manager John Moriarty, one of the hostages, described Olsen as "apparently unstable."

Police were summoned to the bank about 3 p.m. by a silent alarm or by a woman's report to a delicatessen employee next door that a robbery was underway. Their arrival cut off Olsen's avenue of escape.

He led police to believe that he had an armed companion, and in telephone conversations with reporters he reportedly said, "This is the SLA, and we've got a bank under seige. All the hostages are in the line of fire.... We're heavily armed. I may die but so will they."

At one sleepy moment after drinking some of the beer, the guns slipped from Olsen's hands. The remaining hostages then grabbed the weapons and police poised at a rear staircase seized Olsen.

Olsen was to be arraigned today on charges of kidnaping, possession of dangerous weapons and attempted robbery.

Dee Ann Umar, left, and Teckla Farrell, center, chairman and treasurer respectively of the Creative Arts Department of the Murray Woman's Club, present a check for $100 to Pat Holt, instructor of the Adult Activity Program of the Murray-Calloway County Comprehensive Care Center. The department voted to make the contribution to the Center to help them in their support of their program at the September meeting.

Cloudy and Mild

Partly cloudy and mild tonight and Wednesday. Low tonight in the mid 50s, high Wednesday in the upper 70s. Thursday mild with chance of showers.

Magazine Club Holds Meet At Club House

The Magazine Club met at the Murray Woman's Club House on Thursday, September 25, with Mrs. Hess Crossland as hostess. Mrs. Raymond Dixon, vice-president, opened the meeting with a period of devotion.

Mrs. John Livesay, program chairman, introduced the speakers, Mrs. John Winter and Miss Maude Nance, who spoke on "Cook Books."

Mrs. Winter had several cook books on display emphasizing Southern Cooking including some from Louisiana, her home state.

Miss Nance discussed her personal project she is pursuing—Virginia cooking which she said is similar to Kentucky cooking. She gave hints on being ready for any emergency and said not to be afraid of experimenting with standard recipes.

The club voted to place a book in the Public Library in memory of Mrs. Polly Keys.

A salad plate was served by the hostess, Mrs. Crossland.

The October meeting will be with Mrs. Raymond Dixon.

Wedding Planned

Miss Alesia Gail Smith

The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Alesia Gail Smith to Robert Lloyd Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. James K. Parker of Nixon, Texas, has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James R. Smith of Murray Route Two.

Miss Smith is a graduate of Murray State University with a degree in marketing. She was an active member of the Alpha Sigma Alpha social sorority. For the past year, she has been manager of Jean Nicole Apparel Store in Port Arthur, Texas.

A graduate of Texas A & I University, Mr. Parker studied psychology and management. He was formerly a department manager with J. C. Penney Company.

The wedding will be solemnized on Saturday, November 1, at seven p. m. at the Kirksey United Methodist Church. The couple invites their friends and relatives to attend the ceremony.

Speech Stickler Refuses To 'Have Sex'

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Someone wrote to say that he was irritated by people who used the expression "making love" when they meant "having sex." The complainer pointed out that the couple who met at a cocktail party and went to a motel to "make love" did NOT "make love"; they had sex, and "love" had nothing to do with it.

Well, now it's my turn to complain: They did not "have sex"; they had "sexual intercourse."

Everybody has sex. A newborn baby has sex. The sex is either male or female.

Sex is not something one DOES. It is something one IS! STICKLER IN OTTUMWA

DEAR STICKLER: You're right, of course. But some people are hung up by the graphic (though correct) terminology, "sexual intercourse." "Had sex" is easier to say and communicates the same message, so let's live and let people have sex or make love—and who cares?

DEAR ABBY: Herewith a suggestion that "dirty old man" be retired from further use and "dirty young woman" be substituted.

I walked into the local supermarket yesterday and found myself surrounded by a forest of bare legs, bare backs, bare bellies and halter tops. They were all women and girls who seemed to be very proud of every inch of exposed flesh.

The men in the store were reasonably well covered. If a man were to expose that much of himself in public, he would be quickly placed in confinement and labeled a "dirty old man."

Why not women?

YOURS FOR EQUALITY

DEAR YOURS: Your letter was marked Iowa City, Iowa, where it's hot enough in summer to fry an egg on the sidewalk, so I can't fault the women for their bare backs, legs and bellies. If a man chose to expose that much (and some men do), I'd call him sensible, not "dirty."

DEAR ABBY: It was a help to me to read your recent letter from the lady who was disillusioned by the delay in repayment of a small debt.

I recently had a somewhat similar experience. My solution was to reinstate a policy I formulated years ago and had partially forgotten.

To wit: Grant a loan only when you are secretly able to consider it a gift. Then, when the borrower pays it back, you will be pleasantly surprised. And if it's not repaid, you will be less hurt.

NOVATO, CALIF.

DEAR NOVATO: Sorry, but a loan is a loan and a gift is a gift, and very few people can afford the luxury of making a gift of a loan. Also, consider the recipient's pride. The burden of gratitude can be too heavy for some. Not everyone will accept a handout.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

North Calloway PTC Hears Dr. Alsop

The North Calloway Parent-Teacher Club held its regular meeting on Thursday, October 2, at seven p. m. at the North Calloway Elementary School with Roy Gene Dunn, president, presiding.

The meeting opened with a devotion by Rev. Grandville Courtney of the Emmanuel Baptist Church.

The guest speaker was Dr. Robert Alsop, professor in the Department of Special Education at Murray State University, who gave an interesting and informative presentation about the new reading program that will be introduced at North Calloway Elementary school this year.

Dr. Alsop emphasized the parent's role, the school's role, and his role in the implementation of a successful reading program. Dr. Alsop also noted that North Calloway Elementary had excellent facilities for starting such a program.

The secretary read the minutes of the September meeting, and the treasurer read the financial report.

Committee reports included a report by Bob Nanney, PTC Chairman of the Fall Festival which will be held on Friday, October 24, at the North Calloway Elementary school, and will begin at 6 p. m.

The Festival will include such activities as a general store, basketball throw, cat walk, dart boards, and a haunted house. A 25 cent per person charge will be made at the door, and a drawing for hams will be held. Ticket donations can be purchased soon.

All parents, students, teachers, and interested persons are invited to attend this big annual event. Other Fall Festival Committee members and helpers are Judy Cunningham, Greta Gargus, Roy Gene Dunn, Evelyn Wallace, Donna Starks and Dan Cunningham.

Other business included discussion and reports by Janice Graham and Johnny Bohannon.

The PTC voted to change the monthly meeting date to the first Thursday night of each month. The next meeting will be held on November 6.

The PTC membership drive is now in progress. Dues can be paid at any regular meeting or by contacting Judy Jones, treasurer of the PTC, Sara Alexander, Bettye Baker, or Roy Gene Dunn.

The room count was won by the first grade class of Mrs. Cassidy.

THE PRESCRIPTION REGULATIONS ARE GETTING STRICTER!
Time was when things were fairly simple. Your doctor examined you, determined what was wrong and gave you a prescription to bring to your pharmacist to be compounded.
Nowadays it is getting more complicated to fill prescriptions. Such terms as Bioavailability, adverse drug reactions have come into picture. Then in addition there are many new labeling requirements, special containers, and in a large number of cases complex paper work. The time our pharmacists save in preparing a prescription is more than taken up by all the new requirements they have to follow.

To Be Married

Miss Rita McDaniel

Mr. and Mrs. George F. McDaniel, Hillcrest Drive, Mayfield, announce the engagement of their oldest daughter, Rita, to Gregory Linn McKeel, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. McKeel, of Murray.

Miss McDaniel graduated from Mayfield High School, and received a B. A. degree in French from Murray State University. She graduated from the Medical Technology School at Baptist Memorial Hospital, Memphis, Tenn., on September 12. While attending Murray State, she was a member of Alpha Gamma Delta Fraternity.

Mr. McKeel graduated from Murray High School. He served two years in the United States Navy, and returned to Murray, where he received a B. S. degree in August. He was a member of Sigma Chi Fraternity at the University.

The bride-elect is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John A. Leath, of Bradford, Tenn., and Mrs. John T. McDaniel and the late Mr. McDaniel, Dyer, Tenn.

Mr. McKeel is the grandson of Mrs. Sophie York Edison, Warren, Mich., and the late Mr. and Mrs. Daniel McKeel of Murray.

The wedding will take place on Saturday, November 29, at seven p. m., at the First United Methodist Church in Mayfield. A reception will follow in the church's fellowship hall.

All friends and relatives are invited to attend the wedding and the reception. Only out-of-town invitations are being sent.

Hopkins-Jackson Vows To Be Read On Friday

Plans have been completed by Miss Gina Hopkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hopkins, for her wedding to Randy Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Jackson.

The ceremony will be solemnized on Friday, October 10, at seven p. m. at the Flint Baptist Church with Rev. Heyward Roberts officiating.

The bride-elect will be given in marriage by her parents and has selected Miss LuAnna Colson as maid of honor, Miss Cindy Robinson as bridesmaid, and Miss Crista Hancock as flower girl.

Best man for the groom-elect will be Jerry Inman with Jerry Walker as groomsman and Scottie Rice as ring bearer.

Music will be by Mrs. Hal Chrysler, organist, and Mrs. Hal Rice, soloist.

Following the ceremony a reception will be held in the fellowship hall of the church.

All friends and relatives are invited to attend the wedding and the reception.

Contestants Invited To Enter Kentucky Teen-Ager Pageant

Preparations are now being made for the 5th Annual Miss Kentucky Teen-ager Pageant to be held at Transylvania College Auditorium, March 27, 1976. Host Hotel for the three day Pageant is the Continental Inn in Lexington, Kentucky.

The Miss Kentucky Teen-ager Pageant is the Official State Preliminary to the Miss National Teen-ager Pageant to be held in Atlanta, August 1976. Special guests at the Miss Kentucky Teen-ager Pageant will include the reigning Miss Kentucky Teen-ager Karol Olive of Fort Knox. Karol was in the top 15 finalists at the Miss National Teen-ager Pageant 1975. Cindy Ison, Miss Kentucky Teen-ager of 1974 from Greenup will be there as will several out-of-state queens.

Contestants will be judged on scholastic achievement, leadership, poise-personality, and beauty. There is no swimsuit or talent competition.

Each contestant will be requested to participate in the Volunteer Community Service

Program of the National Teen-ager Pageant. This program teaches teen-agers to share and to participate in school and civic affairs. The pageant theme is "What's Right About America."

A Mini-Modeling Charm Course will be given during Pageant Week-end.

The winner of the Miss Kentucky Teen-ager Pageant will receive a $500.00 CASH Scholarship, an all-expense paid trip to compete in the Miss National Teen-ager Pageant in Atlanta where all 50 states and the District of Columbia are represented by state winners.

Contestants must be between 13 and 17 years of age as of January 1, 1976. (Born on or after January 2, 1958).

Any teen-ager interested in entering the Miss Kentucky Teen-ager Pageant may write for further information to Mrs. R. C. Forrest, P. O. Box 10162, Charleston, S. C. 29411.

Mrs. Hopkins Leader For Flint Meet

The Baptist Women of Flint Baptist Church met at the church on Wednesday, October 1, at seven p. m. for the program on the subject, "A City of Asia-Tokyo."

Mrs. Rena Hopkins, director, presided, and Mrs. Robbie Schroeder gave the call to prayer with prayer by Mrs. Dot Bailey.

The program was presented by the chairman, Mrs. Martha Imes, and four Acteen girls, Luana Colson, Lisa Hoke, LaDonne Roberts, and Susie Imes. Prayer was led by Mrs. Modelle Rickman. The minutes and financial report were by Mrs. June Hopkins.

Plans were made to observe the World Day of Prayer on Monday, November 3, at 6:30 p. m. with a prayer program and potluck supper in the fellowship hall of the church.

The meeting was closed with prayer by Mrs. Jessie Barrow.

Keep Eyes On Treasury And Federal Reserve Board

NEW YORK (AP)—There's no need to search for the mechanisms that will be determining interest rates over the next few months. Just keep your eye on Uncle Sam's Treasury and the Federal Reserve Board.

That's what the stock market is doing, and probably no institution in America is more sensitive to the direction of money costs. If interest rates drop, the yield on stocks looks relatively better.

The big, 18.66-point surge in the Dow Jones industrial average last Friday was attributed largely to expectations that the Fed would begin easing up on the money supply and permit interest rates to fall.

But, as is often the case, the market sometimes becomes overly optimistic. There is no assurance the Fed will let more money flow into the economy. More important perhaps, there are few indications that Uncle Sam won't be competing harder than ever for funds.

This isn't good news for those who seek lower rates. Treasury borrowing puts great upward pressure on the entire market. And the outlook now is for increased Treasury borrowing over the next few months.

Treasury officials have raised their estimates of cash requirements in the second half of the year from $41 billion to about $44 billion to $47 billion, with $10 billion of it expected to be raised this month.

Lionel D. Edie & Co., the economic consulting arm of Merrill Lynch, the brokerage house, notes also that federal agencies, which have been essentially out of the market much of the year, will be net borrowers in the fourth quarter.

Adding to the pressure in the money markets, and consequently to interest rates, will be a seasonal rise in demands for credit by businesses and consumers.

"With this confluence of demands, increases in rates could be substantial," says Carol Stone, senior economist for Edie, although some of the potential increase could be muted by an easier Federal Reserve money policy.

The Edie economists nevertheless expect the prime interest rate to rise about one-half point between now and the end of the year, putting it in a range of 8.25 to 8.50 per cent.

The longer-term outlook is considerably better, beginning right after the turn of the year. Private demands for credit generally drop at that time, and Treasury plans might also.

"Interest rates are likely to decline during the opening months of next year and into next summer," says Edie.

Consumer Comment

Fair Credit Act

By Ed W. Hancock, Attorney General

There's a new law to help consumers who feel they have been billed incorrectly. It's called the "Fair Credit Billing Act," and it becomes effective in October, 1975.

Under this new law, if a consumer receives a bill he feels is incorrect and complains within 60 days, the company is required to respond within 30 days and—within 90 days—either correct the error or explain why the bill was correct.

If a company does not follow this procedure, it loses the right to collect the amount owed—up to $50.

The new law also requires that a company must send out bills at least 14 days before they are due so that consumers have time to pay without a late fee. A company must promptly credit any payments sent on time so that consumers are not charged finance charges if they pay promptly.

In addition, if a consumer makes an overpayment, the company must promptly credit the consumer's account or make a refund, if the consumer requests it.

It estimates that short-term rates, such as the prime, could fall by as much as a full percentage point in the first quarter. Long-term rates also might drop by that much, according to the projections.

If this scenario unfolds it would suggest to some observers that the stock market isn't, after all, overly optimistic. The market anticipates; it looks ahead, foretelling events, some say, by six months or more.

However, the market also cannot ignore short-term activities of the market place, especially when that activity is in the form of higher interest rates over the next couple of months.

Garrott's Galley

Moral To This Boat Story: Keep Your Drainage Plug In

By M. C. Garrott

Donald A. Jones, a local attorney, and Dr. Donald E. Jones, dean of continuing education at Murray State, are experienced fishermen. Dr. Jones even teaches a course in "Beginning Bass Fishing" in the "Life and Learning" program at Murray State. They know how to handle boats, select lures, cast under overhanging brush and do all that fancy stuff experienced rod and reel anglers do.

The story we told the other day about the Ray Moore family and their boating problems on Labor Day caused this story to surface about the two Dons. It deals with an experience they had about three years ago when they set out one summer afternoon to wet a line.

Donald A. had just bought a new boat, and they wanted to try it out. The two of them, with the new boat on a trailer behind, went to Kentucky Pine Bluff Shores to put into the water. There's a nice launching ramp there as well as a small dock.

Within minutes they had the boat in the water, and Donald E. drove the car back up the hill to park it and the trailer on the slope to the water's edge. Just about that time, Gary Marquardt, another avid bass fisherman, having also launched his boat, drove up and parked beside the Joneses' car, leaving it in rather close quarters between Gary's and another.

Meanwhile, lawyer Don was in the boat getting the motor started. "He noticed at the time an excessive amount of water in the bottom of the boat," educator Don recalled, "and made a comment about it." Opening up the storage compartments at the rear of the boat, they found them almost filled with water, and at about the same moment noticed the drainage plug had been removed. It was lying on the splash board.

"By then, we were convinced something was drastically wrong," educator Don said. "Don frantically tried to grope under the boat and put the plug back in, but he couldn't locate the drainage hole. Meanwhile, we were getting out in the water to some extent."

By now, these two experienced boatmen and fishermen had concluded that the best thing they could do would be to get back to shore as quickly as possible and get the boat out of the water onto the trailer.

It was educator Don who had to leap to the dock and go for the car and trailer. Normally, such a loading operation would take only a few minutes, but with their car parked so tightly between Marquardt's on one side and one on the other, he had trouble backing out. The trailer kept jack-knifing. Once this was solved, the car bogged down in loose gravel. By then, the boat had filled up with water and capsized.

Marquardt, stolidly watching the proceedings from his boat nearby, came alongside just before the boat capsized and lawyer Don jumped in with him and was taken ashore. Turning his boat around and with the little boat-sinking drama over, Gary headed on out into the lake to do what he had come down there to do—fish.

At this point, Drane Shelly, the director of the purchasing and general services department at Murray State, came upon the scene, and being an old Army man, started telling them how to right the boat and get it out of the water.

Then they sent for Frank Fitch, a professor in the Department of Instruction and Learning at Murray State and a scuba diving enthusiast, to help retrieve the seven casting rods and four boxes of tackle still on the bottom of the lake.

Frank was soon on hand and demonstrated his extraordinary diving prowess by salvaging the equipment to the last Hawaiian Wiggler from about five feet of water.

From that day to this, neither lawyer Don or educator Don will even think about hooking up their boats and trailers and heading for the lake without first checking to see if the drainage plug is securely in place.

Like I said, they're experienced fishermen.

Larry Stone, one of Kentucky's really colorful newspapermen and publisher of the Central City paper has come up with three definitions for a born loser: a fellow who pays $500 for a cemetery lot and then drowns at sea; a stowaway on a Japanese Kamakazi airplane; and a piano player in a marching band.

Electric Companies Experiment With Bills

By LOUISE COOK Associated Press Writer

Electric companies trying to encourage conservation and ease the brunt of rate increases are experimenting with new ways of computing customers' bills. They are charging more for power in peak demand periods and are offering minimum service at a minimum price for low-income consumers.

An Associated Press spot check also showed some officials are urging an "energy stamp" program for the poor, similar to the federal food stamp project. Others advocate changing the traditional "the more you use, the less you pay" rate schedules.

The Edison Electric Institute, a trade group, said residential customers paid an average of 16.4 per cent more for electricity in 1974 than they did in 1973. At the same time, the average amount of electricity used by residential customers dropped about 2 per cent.

The AP survey found that the most popular type of program to cut costs is peak-demand pricing, in use in about a dozen states.

The Florida Public Service Commission recently approved a one-year test plan for Florida Power Corp. whereby 200 residential customers who volunteer for the program will be charged 1.7 cents per kilowatt hour for electricity consumed during nonpeak hours and 7.9 cents per kilowatt hour the rest of the time. The present residential rate is about 4 cents per kilowatt hour.

Peak hours under the plan are 1 to 9 p.m. from April to October and 7 to 11 a.m. and 5 to 9 p.m. the rest of the year. Company officials estimate that customers who take advantage of the new system, doing heavy electric-consuming chores like laundry in off hours, can cut bills by about one-third.

Commonwealth Edison Co. and the Illinois Commerce Commission are conducting a $500,000 peak-demand program that began in June with the installation of special meters in 1,000 homes in northern Illinois.

Commission staff members are collecting information on normal electricity usage and, when the new billing system begins next summer, will check consumption figures to see if there is any saving.

The California Public Utilities Commission, in approving a rate increase requested by Pacific Gas & Electric Co., also okayed a changed system of billing. Residential customers who use a minimum amount of electricity will get a cut in their bills and average users will pay only a small increase, leaving large industrial users to bear the brunt of the rate hike.

The New York State Public Service Commission is considering a proposal for a "lifeline" billing system giving low-income families a below-cost rate. The program would be subsidized by increasing other residential rates.

The Michigan Public Service Commission is looking at an energy voucher program to subsidize part or all utility rate increases since 1973 for low-income customers. Authorities estimate the program would affect 305,000 Michigan homes and would cost $29.6 million annually.

Let's Stay Well

Don't Mistreat Your Bowel

By F. J. L. Blassingame, M.D.

BLASSINGAME

Some authorities believe that Americans are too "bowel conscious." Many people take bowel medication when none is needed.

Several months ago, a panel appointed by the federal Food and Drug Administration studied this problem and reported on 101 ingredients which were used to prepare about 25,000 mixtures that make up laxatives, antidiarrheal preparations, emetics and antiemetics. All are sold without a prescription ("over the counter"), and the industry makes about $300 million a year as a result.

Much of this medication is unnecessary, some of it is unsafe or ineffective.

The panel expressed the opinion that the public is mistaken or confused in many instances about normal bowel function, such as the need for so-called "daily regularity."

This study group concluded that the bulk-forming laxatives are the safest. Normal diets that include fruits, vegetables and some cereals containing indigestible material (such as bran made from wheat) usually perform with equal effectiveness and combine good nutrition.

The panel cautioned against mineral oil. It should not be used regularly and preferably should be taken, when needed, at bedtime. Inasmuch as mineral oil cannot be broken down by digestive juices, it coats over foods and may impair their absorption, including fat-soluble vitamins.

Some laxatives break down by digestion into irritating chemicals and stimulate bowel action, while others, like salts (magnesium or phosphates), draw fluid out of the blood into the bowel to produce a soft or liquid stool. These kinds of laxatives should be restricted to occasional use.

Opiates are the most effective antidiarrheals, and ipecac syrup is a safe and effective emetic.

Attention to diet, proper fluid intake, exercise and regular stool habits usually promote good bowel function. When these measures fail, it is preferable and safer to seek the advice of a physician before starting the regular use of any bowel medication.

Q: Mrs. L. S. wants to know if garlic has any medicinal value and, if so, which diseases will it affect.

A: While garlic has been touted as beneficial for cancer, colds and high blood pressure, such claims are totally false. Garlic is useful as a flavoring ingredient for some persons. Q: Mrs. P.E. wants to know if light honey and dark honey have the same food value.

A: The lightness or darkness of honey is determined by the flowers from which the bees collect the nectar and has no significant influence on the nutritional value. Most of the honey on the market is a blend from several separate origins. Sometimes, aging will darken honey but will not affect its wholesomeness.

Marvin Webster To Be Out For Rest Of Year

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — Marvin Webster, the No. 1 draft pick of the American Basketball Association, will miss the 1975-76 season because of an apparent liver ailment and "may never play again," the Denver Nuggets announced.

Nuggets Coach Larry Brown said Webster, the 7-foot-1 center nicknamed "the Human Eraser," had been undergoing tests in a Denver hospital since Sept. 29. He was a two-time winner of the college division Player of the Year award while at Morgan State.

Brown said tests were continuing, but preliminary diagnoses pointed to a liver problem. Webster suffered from hepatitis during his junior year in college.

"It's a blow to the team to lose a 7-footer who you figured would be strong in the post position," said Brown, here for an exhibition game against Virginia. "But it's a terrible thing to happen to a young man."

The Nuggets had counted heavily on Webster and another top rookie, university division Player of the Year David Thompson of North Carolina State.

The signing of the two most highly sought-after college players from the 1975 crop was seen as evidence that the ABA was on solid ground and could compete for top talent with the older, rival National Basketball Association.

Last month the Nuggets, confident of their rookie talent, applied for membership in the NBA as an expansion club.

Webster averaged 19.9 rebounds a game at Morgan State and his career total of 2,267 rebounds was the second highest in college basketball history.

The Baltimore native also averaged 17.5 points a game and hit on 52 per cent of his shots from the floor. In the 1973-74 season he led the Bears to the National Collegiate Athletic Association division II championship.

However, his brief pro career has been plagued with physical problems. He chipped a bone in his right foot during the summer and missed Denver's rookie workouts in mid-August. He reported to the preseason camp but was unable to practice regularly and complained of constant fatigue.

Webster played only nine minutes in Denver's exhibition opener against the U.S. Pan American Games team Sept. 26 and checked into a Denver hospital three days later.

Caldwells Take Weekend Tourney

Jerry and Carolyn Caldwell of Murray won the Prince and Princess Tournament over the weekend at the Princeton Golf and Country Club.

The Caldwells had rounds of 75 and 72 for a total of 147 in the two-ball tourney. They won the tourney by three shots.

Also in the championship flight, Jimmy and Carita Lamb had rounds of 84-84 for a 168 and finished in eighth place.

Homer and Debbie Branch won the first flight with rounds of 86-78 for a 164 total. In the fourth flight, Mike and Jean Morgan won the championship with rounds of 101-86 for a 187.

All the golfers from Murray are members of the Oaks Country Club.

Timeout With Brandon

By MIKE BRANDON
Sports Editor

Readers Say Too Much Baseball Coverage

We are again running the sports readership survey today.

This will probably be the last time it will run. Again, I would like to urge everyone who has filled out a survey to drop in by the office, mail it or just give it to me.

If you are a reader of the sports section, it is very important you take a few minutes to complete the survey.

Here are some of the results thus far: Apparently, the people of the area are taking to women's sports. Fifty per cent feel that women's sports are very important while 43 per cent feel women's sports are important but not as important as the men's sports. Seven per cent had no opinion.

Apparently, people feel there is too much coverage given to the Little League, Pony League and etc. during the summer. Fifty per cent say there is too much coverage while 43 per cent said there is not too much coverage. The rest were undecided.

Apparently, football and basketball predictions in Timeout With Brandon were fairly popular. Sixty-five per cent would like to see those predictions again while seven per cent say no and the other 28 per cent have no opinion.

We could even add a little more controversy to stories and get by all right. Only seven per cent feel the stories and columns are too controversial while 50 per cent say they are about right and 43 per cent would like even more controversy.

As far as the style of writing, I've been cutting back quite a bit on play-by-play reports of the games. Twenty-one per cent want more play-by-play, 43 per cent say it's about right and 36 per cent want even less play-by-play.

Here are some comments from the readers who have sent in surveys: "As a member of the Murray State defensive unit, I think you should have more coverage on us. We work ourselves to death and then when an article is written, it's all about the offense."

"I would like to see better coverage of the Park League games. My child could hardly wait to get the paper and read about the game and then it wouldn't be in there. I think all the teams should receive the same coverage."

"I would like to see more interviews with different players, to get their opinions on things. Also, maybe a feature article on certain outstanding players of the previous week."

"You pick too many favorites. You are prejudiced against some people."

"I wish you would do away with the sports section all together."

My replies:

In recent football stories, I have added "Between the Lines" to the game report. It gives defensive statistics etc. When you talk about individual defensive players in the story, you wind up talking about everyone and you have an article so long nobody wants to read it.

As far as interviews with players, if I ever get a full-time assistant sports editor you'll see a heck of a lot more feature stories. But there's so much other routine sports that has to be covered that my time for doing features is limited. And that's also unfortunate because I really enjoy doing feature stories.

I pick too many favorites? That's about typical. A lot of folks at Murray High feel I favor Calloway and a lot of folks at Calloway feel I favor Murray High. But remember one thing: I try my damndest to write an unbiased story. However, people who read the stories are biased and thus if they see something in the story they don't like, guess who gets blasted.

And to the last comment: If they did away with the sports section all together, that would do away with my job. Then I could get on welfare and you could pay your tax money to support me.

Later on in the month, we'll run a copy again of the survey with the results filled in. And again, I urge students to take the time and fill out the surveys. Thus far, the greater part of the surveys have been from people in the over 50 category.

No matter who you like or dislike the way sports is handled in the Murray Ledger & Times, please take a little time to fill out the survey.

LEAD-BLOCK — Greg Schanbacher (12) of the Murray Tigers seventh grade team picks up a good gain as Bill Shelton (42) supplies the block. The seventh grade team captured a 24-12 win over Christian County. (Staff Photos by Mike Brandon)

Middle School Tigers Win Pair Of Contests

Who has the best football team in Murray?

Walk down toward the corner of Eighth and main and anybody can tell you: The Murray Middle School eighth grade Tigers are the toughest team around.

Monday night in Holland Stadium, the Tigers carved out an 8-5 win over a very tough Christian County team. It marked the third win in as many games for the Tigers.

But the biggest factor is this: Nobody had scored off the hard-hitting Tiger defense in those two games and now, they've given up only one TD all year.

It was also a good night for the seventh grade team, which had lost two 6-0 games, slammed Christian County 24-12 in the opening contest Monday.

In the eighth grade game, the very big and physically tough Colonels won the opening kickoff. But they didn't establish any kind of ground game as the quick and very, very hard-hitting Tiger defensive unit pushed the Colonels back.

And as a result of the good defense, the following punt was short and Murray took over in good field position. With the superb running of Nicky Hibbard, Gary Long and Nicky Swift, the Tigers steadily rolled up the yardage on the ground.

With 2:11 left in the first period, Hibbard scored from eight yards out and then added the conversion and the Tigers led 8-0. The rest of the contest was a bruising defensive standoff.

Near the end of the first half, Randy Garland recovered a fumble and the Tigers worked all the way down to the Christian County two-yard line before the time ran out.

In the second half, Murray played without Gary Long, who was injured, and the ground game of the Tigers lagged.

Finally, with 5:06 left in the game, Wayne Pamantier scampered 19 yards for a score. But Hibbard made the hit on the conversion attempt and the Tigers were left with an 8-6 lead. Christian County never crossed midfield the rest of the game. Murray got the ball with 1:42 left in the game but the Colonels had used all their timeouts.

Quarterback Rich Rollins took the ball and ran five yards back and fell, with the ball safely tucked under his body. And there was nothing Christian County could do but accept the loss.

In the seventh grade contest, it was a scoreless tie for the first period. Then early in the second quarter, Greg Schanbacher rolled out to the left and went 41 yards for a six-pointer. The Tiger quarterback also added the two-point conversion, going off right tackle Jeff Chadwick, and Murray led 8-0.

The most exciting play of the game came with 2:42 left in the third period when Tim Foster flew down the right sideline, leaving everyone flat-footed. Foster covered 70 yards on the play and looked like O. J. Simpson when it came to the speed department.

Again, on the two-point conversion, Schanbacher carried it in and Murray led 16-0. Early in the fourth period, Eddie Reguarth covered a fumble on the Colonels 22.

Six plays later, Foster scored from two yards out. Gary Sims added the conversion, with a super second effort, and the Tigers led 24-0.

Christian County scored a pair of touchdowns within a minute and that cut the final margin to 24-12.

The seventh graders are 1-2 on the season. Next Monday, the Middle Schoolers will be playing at Benton.

On Waivers

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics have placed 6-foot-7 forward Darryl Brown on waivers, cutting their National Basketball Association roster to 16 players.

Brown, a former Fordham University player, was the Celtics' fourth-round draft choice. The Celtics have to be down to 12 players by their Oct. 24 regular season opener at Boston Garden.

Hunting Runner

ATLANTA (AP) — The Atlanta Falcons are shopping for a running back today after losing rookie Brad Davis for the National Football League season with a knee injury.

Davis, the No. 9 draft choice from Louisiana State University, underwent surgery Monday. He was injured in Sunday's 14-7 victory over New Orleans.

His injury leaves the Falcons with only four running backs, Dave Hampton, Haskel Stanback, Oscar Reed and Woody Thompson.

Ohio State Gets Lead In College Grid Poll

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

Barry Switzer, coach of the defending national champions, says Oklahoma is "not the team we were in '74" and it showed today when the Sooners dropped from first place to second behind Ohio State in The Associated Press college football ratings.

The Buckeyes of Ohio State impressed the voters and a national television audience with a 41-20 rout of UCLA and received 47 first-place votes and 1,178 of a possible 1,240 points from a nationwide panel of 62 sports writers and broadcasters.

Meanwhile, Oklahoma, which was hard-pressed to beat winless Miami of Florida 20-17 a week ago, had an even closer battle with Colorado, winning 21-20 when the Buffs missed an extra-point kick with 1:23 to play. The Sooners received 14 first-place votes and 1,072 points.

Last week, Oklahoma received 30 first-place ballots to Ohio State's 26 and outpolled Woody Hayes' Buckeyes 1,086 points to 1,065. Ohio State was No. 1 a year ago until the closing weeks of the campaign when the Bucks bowed to Michigan State and surrendered the top spot to Oklahoma, which kept it the rest of the way. "I'm not disappointed we're No. 2," Switzer said. "I'm disappointed with the way we played and the mistakes we made. If you go on Woody Hayes' point system, I guess they deserve to be No. 1. I read where he said they ought to be No. 1 because they scored more points than we did."

Southern California held onto third place by defeating Iowa 27-16. The Trojans received the other first-place vote and 975 points. Nebraska remained fourth with 858 points following a 31-16 triumph over Miami, Fla.

Texas moved up from seventh to fifth by routing Utah State 61-7. The Longhorns supplanted Missouri, which dropped from fifth to 12th in the wake of a 31-7 loss to Michigan. Texas A&M stayed in sixth place with a 10-0 blanking of Kansas State.

Alabama, continuing to work its way back toward the top, climbed from ninth to seventh following a 32-6 victory over Mississippi and Michigan's whipping of Missouri elevated the Wolverines from 12th to eighth replacing Notre Dame. The Irish skidded to 15th after losing to Michigan State 10-3.

Penn State rose from 10th to ninth with a 10-3 decision over Kentucky while West Virginia, which meets Penn State this weekend in an Eastern showdown, went from 11th to 10th by beating Southern Methodist 28-22.

The Second Ten consists of Arizona State, Missouri, Colorado, Oklahoma State, Michigan State and Notre Dame tied for 15th, followed by Arizona, Florida, Tennessee and Miami of Ohio.

Hobbie, Kennedy Pace Offensive Statistics

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — For a team that has won only one of three games, Murray State University certainly is doing well statistically.

Not only is quarterback Mike Hobbie rolling along at the top of the heap in both passing and total offense, but running back Art Kennedy has taken over the lead in rushing, too, in the Ohio Valley Conference.

Hobbie is averaging 166 yards a game after gaining 477 yards passing and 21 rushing in three games. Eastern Kentucky's Ernie House is second with a 143-yard average.

Kennedy, gaining 134 yards on 22 carries in Murray's 17-3 victory over Morehead Saturday, boosted his rushing average by 13.8 yards to set it at 106.3 after three games.

Mike Moore of Middle Tennessee, with four games under his belt, is averaging 93.5 yards per game for second place.

Murray, even with its poor record, still is third in the OVC in team offense with a 303.3 yard average and second in defense, allowing the opposition just 233.7 yards per game.

Eastern Kentucky leads the offensive parade, averaging 493.2 yards per game, and Western Kentucky is the defensive leader, holding its opponents to 176.6 yards a game.

Eastern Kentucky's Hal Emerson retained the conference lead in scoring this week, averaging 7.2 points per game while placekickers Emodi Amagula of Murray and Charlie Johnson of Western Kentucky are averaging 5.0 points each.

Amagula, who has kicked four field goals and all three of his conversions attempts for 15 points, is tied with Johnson, who has three field goals and all six extra point attempts, with an average of five points a game in kicking only.

Middle Tennessee's Tony Williams leads in pass receptions with 15 for 203 yards.

Tommy Beaver of Middle Tennessee is the kickoff return leader, averaging 23.7 yards; Eastern Kentucky's Steve Hess leads in punt returns with an average of 17.9 on eight catches; and Morehead's Vic Williams has picked off three passes for 59 yards to lead in interceptions.

On defense, Rick Green of Western Kentucky retained his lead this week with 49 tackles and 23 assists in five games while Western's Keith Tandy has 11 tackles for losses for a total of 39 yards.

Wins Bout
ZAGREB, Yugoslavia (AP) — Mate Parlov of Yugoslavia scored a fifth-round technical knockout over John Griffin of Akron, Ohio, in a scheduled 10-round light-heavyweight bout Monday night before a crowd of 9,000. It was Parlov's sixth victory in six matches since he turned pro.

BASKETBALL
ASHEVILLE, N.C. — Marvin Webster, the No. 1 draft choice of the American Basketball Association, will be lost to the Denver Nuggets for the entire basketball season because of a liver ailment.

NEW YORK — Clemson University's basketball program was placed on probation for three years by the National Collegiate Athletic Association because of recruiting violations.

Tiger "B" Gets First Win Of Season Monday

The Murray High Tiger "B" team evened its season record at 1-1 by taking an 8-0 win over host Henry County Monday night in Paris.

The only score of the contest came with about three minutes left when fullback Ken Perkins plunged over from a yard out. On the conversion, quarterback Gregg Garland connected with Frank Gilliam on the pass and Murray led 8-0.

The drive started back on the Tigers' own 15 and Murray used up most of the quarter with the march downfield.

Early in the game, Murray got inside the Henry County 20-yard line on several occasions but could never score. Once in the first half, Henry County had a fourth and goal from the Tiger five.

But Murray linebacker Kerry Thompson dropped the quarterback for a big loss on a rollout and that prevented a Patriot score.

The coaching staff of the Tigers said Perkins and runningback Claude Johnson had outstanding games while on defense, Phillip Zacharetti and Kevin Shahan were superb.

The Tiger "B" team will play host to South Fulton at 7 p. m. next Monday in Holland Stadium.

Kuhn Says Stengel Made Many Friends For Sport

By JACK STEVENSON
AP Sports Writer

GLENDALE, Calif. (AP) — Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn eulogized Casey Stengel as "more than great, he was total."

"He made more friends for baseball than anybody who has lived."

At Monday's funeral for Charles Dillon "Casey" Stengel, who died a week ago at 85, Kuhn said: "I doubt if anyone was more loved in this country than Casey Stengel. Most of his players, maybe not all of them, loved him. Some adored him."

He was known as "The Ol' Professor" mainly because of his phrase, "It's in the book. Look it up." But, Kuhn added, "Casey looked it up for all of us in his joyous mood."

The Church of the Reconciliation had standing room only at Forest Lawn Memorial Park for the funeral services. Pallbearers included greats of baseball and long time friends of the venerable Stengel.

President Ford sent a letter of condolence to Mrs. Stengel, who couldn't attend the funeral because she has been hospitalized several months after suffering a stroke.

The Rev. Dr. Kenneth A. Carlson of the First United Methodist Church of Glendale eulogized Stengel as "Stengelese," the mode of speech of the Hall of Fame baseball manager who piloted the New York Yankees to seven World Series titles and three other American League crowns.

"I visited him in the hospital and asked him how he was," the minister said. "I never did find out but he talked about everyone else."

Stengel's verbal sentence structure lacked punctuation and as Arthur "Red" Patterson, president of the California Angels noted, "You just had to wait until he has finished."

New Stadium Didn't Provide Any Help For Helpless Lions

By LARRY PALADINO
AP Sports Writer

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — Pontiac Stadium's majestic air-inflated dome didn't spring any leaks, but the Detroit Lions' bubble was burst by Roger Staubach's shotgun offense and slingshot arm.

A near-capacity crowd of 79,784 gave the Dallas Cowboys resounding boos when they were introduced before Monday night's National Football League contest against Detroit.

But the boos that reverberated off the newly raised fiberglass roof of the plush $55.7 million stadium at the end of the nationally televised 38-10 Cowboy victory were for the Lions.

Detroit seemed helpless as Staubach turned a 10-9 third-period Lion advantage into a Cowboy runaway.

Meanwhile, his defensive mates, led by 250-pound tackle Jethro Pugh, sacked Lion quarterback Greg Landry so many times he almost got artificial grass stains on his Honolulu blue pants.

A bad Detroit snap on punt formation that set up Dallas' go-ahead touchdown in the third quarter.

A 29-yard draw play by Charles Young of the Cowboys, followed by Young's circus catch for a 42-yard touchdown pass from Staubach on the first play of the fourth quarter.

A 46-yard halfback pass from Robert Newhouse to Drew Pearson for another stunning Cowboy fourth-period TD.

A 37-yard scoring aerial from Staubach to Pearson after the Cowboys recovered a Landry fumble at the Lion 16 and lost 25 yards on penalties.

"That bad snap was the turning point as far as I'm concerned," Lions' Coach Rick Forzano insisted. "We had momentum up to that point. We had 'em. But that snap turned the whole thing around."

Richard Hicks, the center on kicks, snapped low and punter Herman Weaver was run out of bounds at the Lion 33, automatically turning the ball over to Dallas. Pearson, who caught six passes for 188 yards, came on the next Dallas possession grabbed it with one hand, bobbled it for a few yards and then hauled it in over cornerback Levi Johnson, who was burned several times by Staubach.

Kansas City Fire Fighters' Strike Ends After Promises

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — A four-day-old Kansas City fire fighters' strike ended today after the city promised to reinstate 59 men who were discharged for failing to return to work and the union agreed to cooperate in investigating cases of possible arson during the strike.

Mayor Charles B. Wheeler Jr. and other city officials had accused members of Local 42 of the International Association of Firefighters of deliberately setting some of the more than 200 blazes which erupted in the city during the strike.

Union spokesmen angrily denied the accusations.

The city's 858 fire fighters began returning to duty this morning after Wheeler agreed to rehire the union members who were dismissed Sunday night and the union pledged full cooperation with law enforcement agencies in the suspected arson cases.

The fire fighters, who walked out Friday morning in a pay dispute, still have not achieved the demand they first issued in 1969 — pay parity with city police officers.

Fire fighters currently earn $10,200 to $12,996 annually, while police officers earn $9,432 to $15,305 a year.

Talks between the city and the union with a federal mediator are scheduled to begin at 2 p.m. EDT today.

Union leaders and city officials announced an end to the walkout after the two groups met separately for about two hours early today. While discussions continued, nearly 800 National Guardsmen and hundreds of police officers and volunteers patrolled city streets and manned the 59 fire stations.

Fire fighters said Monday they were prepared to return to work, but they refused to do so until the 59 dismissed men were rehired.

Wheeler stood by his refusal to rehire the men until late Monday night, when he said City Manager Robert Kipp assured him that the move would be something the city "could live with" to get the men back to work.

The city has maintained the walkout was illegal because state law prohibits public employee strikes and because the city has a valid work agreement with fire fighters until May 1, 1976.

A Jackson County Circuit Court hearing on the city's request for an injunction against the strike is scheduled for Thursday, but union attorney Charles Shafer said today that the mayor agreed not to oppose a union motion to deny the injunction.

In an early morning news conference announcing the end of the walkout, Wheeler stopped short of saying a grand jury investigation of suspicious fires during the weekend would be dropped. But he said the grand jury would be working in a less volatile climate with fire fighters back on the job.

Funeral To Be Held For First Brescia President

OWENSBORO, Ky. (AP) — A funeral will be held Wednesday for Sister Joan Marie Lechner, an Owensboro educational leader and the first full-time president of Brescia College.

Sister Joan Marie, 62, died Monday at Bowling Green-Warren County Hospital after she apparently suffered a heart attack at St. Joseph's Convent in Bowling Green.

She had been president of Brescia from September 1960 to May 1974. Since her retirement from the college, she served as coordinator of religious programs for St. Joseph's and Holy Spirit parishes in Bowling Green.

In her 14 years as president, Brescia, founded by the Order of St. Ursula at Maple Mount, was incorporated as a separate entity governed by a board of trustees made up of Catholic and Protestant laymen as well as priests and sisters.

While Sister Joan Marie was president, Brescia's enrollment rose from 700 to about 1,000 and its annual budget grew from $290,000 to $1.2 million.

Construction projects during the 14 years included a girls dormitory, a $1.5 million science complex, a gymnasium and a business administration annex.

Sister Joan Marie was active in other educational and business affairs as well. In 1970, she was the first woman to win the Liberty Bell award given by the Daviess County Bar Association.

She was selected for inclusion in Who's Who among American Women in 1965. She was appointed by Gov. Wendell Ford in 1973 to the Kentucky Commission on Higher Education.

She had served on the Kentucky Independent Colleges Foundation executive committee and as chairman of the international education and inter-institutional cooperation committees of the Council of Kentucky Independent Colleges and Universities.

She was a native of The Nebraska City, Neb., and held a bachelor's degree from Loras College and a master's from St. Louis University. She entered the order of St. Ursula at Mt. St. Joseph at Maple Mount in Daviess County in 1934.

Sister Joan Marie joined Brescia in 1953 and served as an English instructor and college treasurer until her appointment as president.

Historical Group Sets Fall Tour

Led by tour directors Dr. and Mrs. Hunter Hancock, the annual fall "meeting trip" of the Jackson Purchase Historical Society will have Boonesborough as its primary target on Saturday, October 18.

Daniel Boone's party established the settlement in 1775 thus making this year the 200th Anniversary. Visits for the day include this original site, the newly reconstructed Fort Boonesborough at the state park, Morrison College Chapel on the Transylvania University campus, and Hopewell, the Lexington home of Confederate General John Hunt Morgan.

Historic Gratz Park is nearby. Old Morrison, like the Old State Capitol in Frankfort, was designed by Gideon Shryock. It contains scientific apparatus from the Medical School of 1799, the gourmet evening meal will be served at Shakertown at Pleasant Hill.

The reservation with $26 check which covers all costs, must be received by Miss Margaret Heath, Secretary, by October 10. If seats are not filled by that time, the tour will be cancelled and checks returned. Non-members will be accepted if members have not reserved all seats by October 10. No reservation may be cancelled for refund after October 10 unless a replacement is obtained. The secretary's address is 1202 Joe Creason Drive, Benton, Kentucky, 42025.

Dr. Harry Sparks, President of the JPHS, has announced the chartered bus will leave the Paducah Greyhound station at 5:00 a.m.; Mayfield bus station at 5:40 a.m.; Murray bus station at 6:20 a.m.; and Benton Courthouse at 6:50 a.m.

Dr. and Mrs. Hancock, have already driven the route and made all arrangements for guides, tickets, refreshments, and meals.

Price Of Lunches To Depend On Veto Override, Congress

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — A state official says the price of lunch for several thousand Kentucky school children depends on whether Congress overrides President Ford's veto of a $2.7 billion school-lunch subsidy bill.

Democratic leaders in Congress are optimistic they have enough votes to override the veto. The matter was scheduled for a House vote today.

The bill, vetoed Friday, would have increased by "several thousands" the number of children in Kentucky eligible for reduced price lunches and free meals, said Marshall Swain, director of the state Division of Food Services.

The current law provides for lunch subsidies for children from families of four with an income of about $8,750. The bill would raise the eligibility figure to about $9,770.

It would extend, and in some cases broaden, a variety of child nutrition programs such as school breakfast subsidies and school lunch assistance for the children of the temporarily unemployed.

"Last year, the number of regular paid breakfasts in Kentucky was 4,102,165," Swain said Monday. "The number of reduced-price breakfasts served was 461,668 and the number of free breakfasts was 13,331,469."

Paul Naberezny To Speak At Luncheon

"College As A tool for Preparing for the Future" will be Paul Naberezny's topic at this Wednesday's United Campus Ministry luncheon. This is the fifth in a series of programs focusing on the student at Murray State.

Naberezny became a member of the University Counseling and Testing Center this year. Before that time he was employed by Georgetown University as Director of Summer Housing and Residence Hall director. Naberezny received his B. A. degree in Social Studies from John Carroll University and his M. A. in Guidance and Counseling from John Carroll University also.

The luncheons are served at the United Campus Ministry building from 12:30 to 1:20 each Wednesday and are open to the entire Murray community. Cost of the plate lunch is $1.25. For information or reservations call 753-3531.

Girl Scouts Set Jubilee For Saturday

The Bear Creek Girl Scout Council will hold its annual Junior Jubilee at Camp Bear Creek October 11. Registration will begin at 9:30 with the first activities starting at 10:00.

This year's theme is "Camp Skills", with instruction on fire building, knot tying, lashing, tent pitching, first aid and archery. Activities will be lead by senior troop 183 of Paducah.

All Junior scouts are urged to attend for a day of fun and a chance to explore Camp Bear Creek. You may register by calling 443-8704.

Additional Funds Raised For Cindy Hill Scholarship

A bake sale project by nursing students and faculty at Murray State University last week raised a total of $78 for the Cindy Hill Memorial Scholarship Fund.

Sandra Loyet of O'Fallon, Ill., a junior nursing major and chairman of the bake sale committee of the campus chapter of the Kentucky Association of Nursing Students, said the money was raised by selling cookies, cakes, brownies, cup cakes, candies and homemade bread.

Mrs. Hill of Murray was a junior nursing student at Murray State when she died April 25 of injuries sustained in an automobile accident that occurred as she was returning from a field trip to Louisville.

A fund drive to establish a perpetual scholarship in her memory was initiated by the Alumni Association following her death. Several people in the community are serving on the fund drive committee, which is headed by Jim Williams as chairman.

Bake sale proceeds pushed the total amount of money raised to $2,213. The goal is $2,500.

Afraid You're Going Deaf?

Chicago, Ill. — A free offer of special interest to those who hear but do not understand words has been announced by Bellone. A non-operating model of the smallest Bellone aid ever made will be given absolutely free to anyone requesting it.

This is not a real hearing aid, but it will show you how they hearing help can be. It's yours to keep, free. The actual aid weighs less than a third of an ounce, and it's all at our level, in one unit. No wires lead from body to head.

These models are free, so write for yours now. Thousands have already been mailed, so write today to Dept. 5633, Bellone Electronics Corp., 4201 W. Victoria St., Chicago, Ill., 60646.

Deaths and Funerals

Funeral Thursday For Mr. Davidson

Settlement Possible In Candidate's Suit

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — A former Republican candidate's lawsuit, filed in U.S. District Court against former Gov. Louie B. Nunn, has been placed in limbo temporarily, pending a possible out-of-court settlement.

Elmer Begley Jr. of Hyden, an unsuccessful candidate for the GOP nomination for governor last May, asked for 20 days to consult a lawyer about a settlement proposed by Nunn's lawyers.

Begley's suit accused Nunn of receiving $100,000 in 1971 from the campaign fund of former President Richard Nixon and not reporting the money. Nunn sought dismissal of the suit and asked for $1,500 for legal fees.

U.S. District Judge Bernard T. Moynahan apparently granted Begley's request, although he did not enter a written order after Begley appeared in court Monday. Moynahan called Begley to the bench for a private consultation, then went on to the next case without any comment.

Nunn's lawyers said Monday the suit had been settled, but Begley later said he had "not exactly" agreed to a settlement. He wouldn't comment further.

Senior Citizens To Be Seen On TV

Nashville, Tenn., has its "Minnie Pearl" and so does the Murray Calloway County Senior Citizens. On Wednesday, October 8, on Channel 11, the Murray State University TV Station, "Minnie Pearl and her Country Cowgirls" will appear on the Focus Show between the hours of five and six p. m.

Minnie Pearl is played by Mrs. Lillie Farris and her Country Cowgirls are Hazel Locke, Memie Mattingly, Flossie Snow, Lottie Bowden, Hazel Ahart, Lovola Wyatt, Erna Lovett, Willie Mae Morton, Lalla Boyd, and playing the piano will be Thyra Crawford.

A similar suit by Begley against GOP nominee for governor Robert Gable, who was finance chairman in the gubernatorial campaign of Tom Emberton four years ago, already has been dismissed by Moynahan.

Begley and Nunn both said the money eventually ended up in Emberton's campaign.

SELECTING YOUR BEST PRODUCTS TO ADVERTISE

If you have not been a regular newspaper advertiser, and you are now convinced you are missing the business boat, you may very well want a few outside suggestions on what products might be best to feature in new advertising you will now place in this newspaper.

The big mistake many business people make is selecting an item in stock that is limited in supply. What happens when you advertise a product that you have only a few of, and you knock the price way down to insure its attractiveness to the readers? Simply this, the few people who arrive early enough to make a purchase will be happy, but those that follow will be very unhappy; you don't make friends and customers advertising in this manner! (Unless you stated in your ad the actual number you had in stock.)

It is best to advertise, as your leader product, an item you have in good supply, at a price that you know will be attractive. Be realistic when setting the price. Check the competition and try to be below them. On the other hand, if yours is a product generally sold for its quality rather than its price, be sure your copy tells the whole story of why it is worth the money, as compared with less expensive similar products offered by others. Advertisers often wonder and remark, "How long should the copy be?" The answer to that question is, the copy should be long enough to tell enough of the product story to interest the prospective customer in coming to your place of business to see it. If this makes the ad too cluttered or crowded, make the advertisement larger. Don't waste advertising dollars with halfway measures.

Never build an advertisement around a product that you know to be inferior, in the hope that you will get rid of all your old "dogs." Make the public a legitimate offer in your ads, with the best price possible, and you'll be building new customers on a solid foundation. For those people who have never visited your establishment previously this transaction will be their first impression of you and how your company does business. If they go home disappointed it is going to be very difficult to get them back the second time!

Alternate your feature products. In other words, don't feature the same product week after week, unless it is selling well. A certain percentage of the readers will be interested in one product, while it may take something entirely different to interest the rest. And remember, every new ad is "watering and hoeing" your "advertising garden."

If you have a place with display windows, get your employees together to form an opinion on what has been attracting the most attention of street traffic. If an item has created a lot of attention, and brought in quite a few passersby, it is likely to have the same affect when featured in one of your ads.

Be alert to products being offered by national advertisers that fall into your business category. Often following their lead proves beneficial in building sales, because they have already spent the money necessary to research the market on items they advertise heavily.

Multiple product ads are good. Every item shown gives you another potential interest factor for the readers to consider. But even in these ads it is best to give "top billing" to your hottest product.

You've probably got many items in stock that would, if advertised, prove to be great traffic "pullers." Look around, give it a lot of thought, and don't let yourself be guided by strictly your own personal product preferences. Other people have other needs and desires.

NEXT WEEK: WHAT SHOULD YOUR NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING BUDGET BE?

NATIONAL 4-H CLUB WEEK

Head, Heart, Hands, Health . . . Working For a Better World

Young folks who appreciate the gifts the good earth offers, who use those gifts to make things better for themselves . . . their families . . . their neighborhoods . . . and the nation. It's time to congratulate them: the country kids with their livestock and produce . . . the city kids planting parks, cleaning rivers—all of them learning and using the skills that make life a richer experience and the world a better place. We'd like you to know, 4-H'ers, that we appreciate your work and applaud your success. We're standing behind you proudly as you proceed with your projects. Thanks for creative concern.
